#1 Mom Blue Ribbon Card

©TeachWithMe.com

Materials:

- Glue sticks
- Scissors
- Black pens
- Blue and lime green construction paper or hot pink. I thought these colors looked sharp, but you can choose whatever colors you like. Bright yellow would also look pretty.

Directions:

Prep:

- Run off masters on construction paper
- Print off color copies of “stamps” from your computer printer from your download. They don’t take much ink and you can get 4 student copies per page. I think color copies look so much nicer, but it’s up to you.

The next day...

1. Have your students discuss what things their mommies do for them. Write these words on the board. Can they think of any symbols that would go with those words? Do they think that their mom’s deserve a blue ribbon for doing those special things for them? Would they like to make one for them?
2. These are the ones I thought of: Mommies: cook, clean, do laundry, love, hug and kiss me, help with school work, take me places, take care of me when I’m sick or get hurt, buy me things, do things with me and listen to me, and read stories to me.
3. If your students think of others they can design their own stamp(s). I’d love to hear from you (diane@teachwithme.com) if you think of more. I can always add extra stamps!
4. Students CUT out their lime green/pink circles and blue pointy circle.
5. Children GLUE the small printed circle to the pointy circle and then the pointy circle to the large circle.
6. Students CUT out the two ribbons.
7. Students CUT out their “Mommy does this for me!” stamps and GLUE them to the matching numbered boxes on the ribbons.
8. TIP: I thought these looked nicer not having numbers written on them, so I wrote the numbers above the squares. Because of this, children get confused as to where they go. Advise your students to cut them out ONE at a time and then glue them to the appropriate numbered box. This way they will know where they go and they won’t lose the pieces.
9. Children sign their name under the I ♥U with a black ink pen.
