

Alphabet Wheel Activities

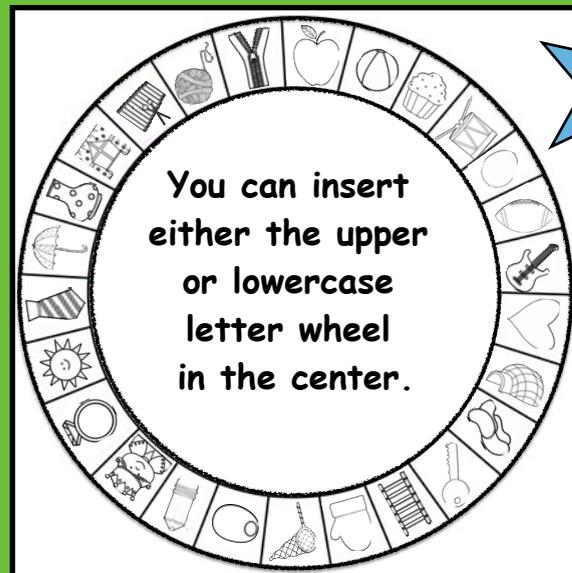

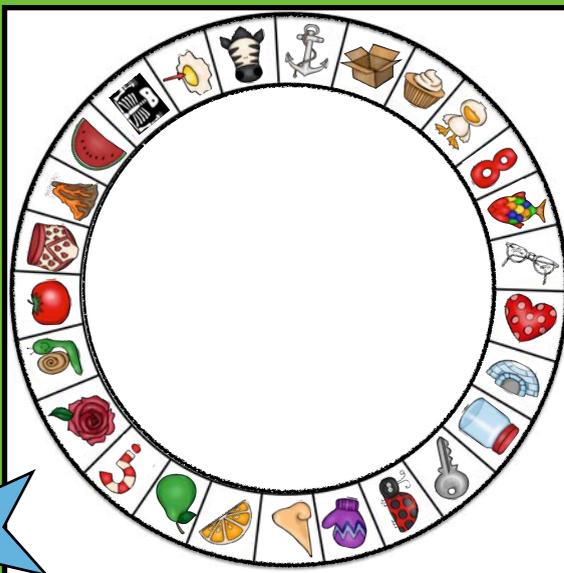

Games, worksheets, posters, assessments and . . .

Diane Henderson

5 large alphabet picture
wheels.

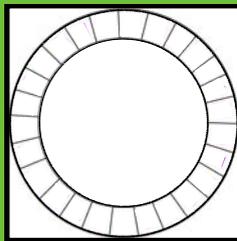

You can insert
either the upper
or lowercase
letter wheel
in the center.

Add all 3 to make a triple
alphabet
wheel.

Use an "apple pointer"
for another wheel
option.

Large uppercase
letter wheel.
Smaller lowercase
wheel goes in the center.

Blank wheel so that you and your kiddos
can create your own
alphabet wheels.

A variety of ways to put the wheels together, with 7
lowercase wheel options.

Each Alpha Wheel has a matching
"Trace & Write" worksheet.

Alphabet Apple - Clip And Match Game

Run off on red, yellow and green construction paper; add a stem and leaf; laminate and trim. Students match the lowercase letter clothespin to the uppercase letter, or the uppercase letter clothespin to the matching uppercase letter. Children can work with a partner and choose a clothespin from the pile to clip.

Apple Clothespin Matching Game

Leaf and stem patterns.

Print, cut and trace onto an old file folder to make a template that's easier to trace.

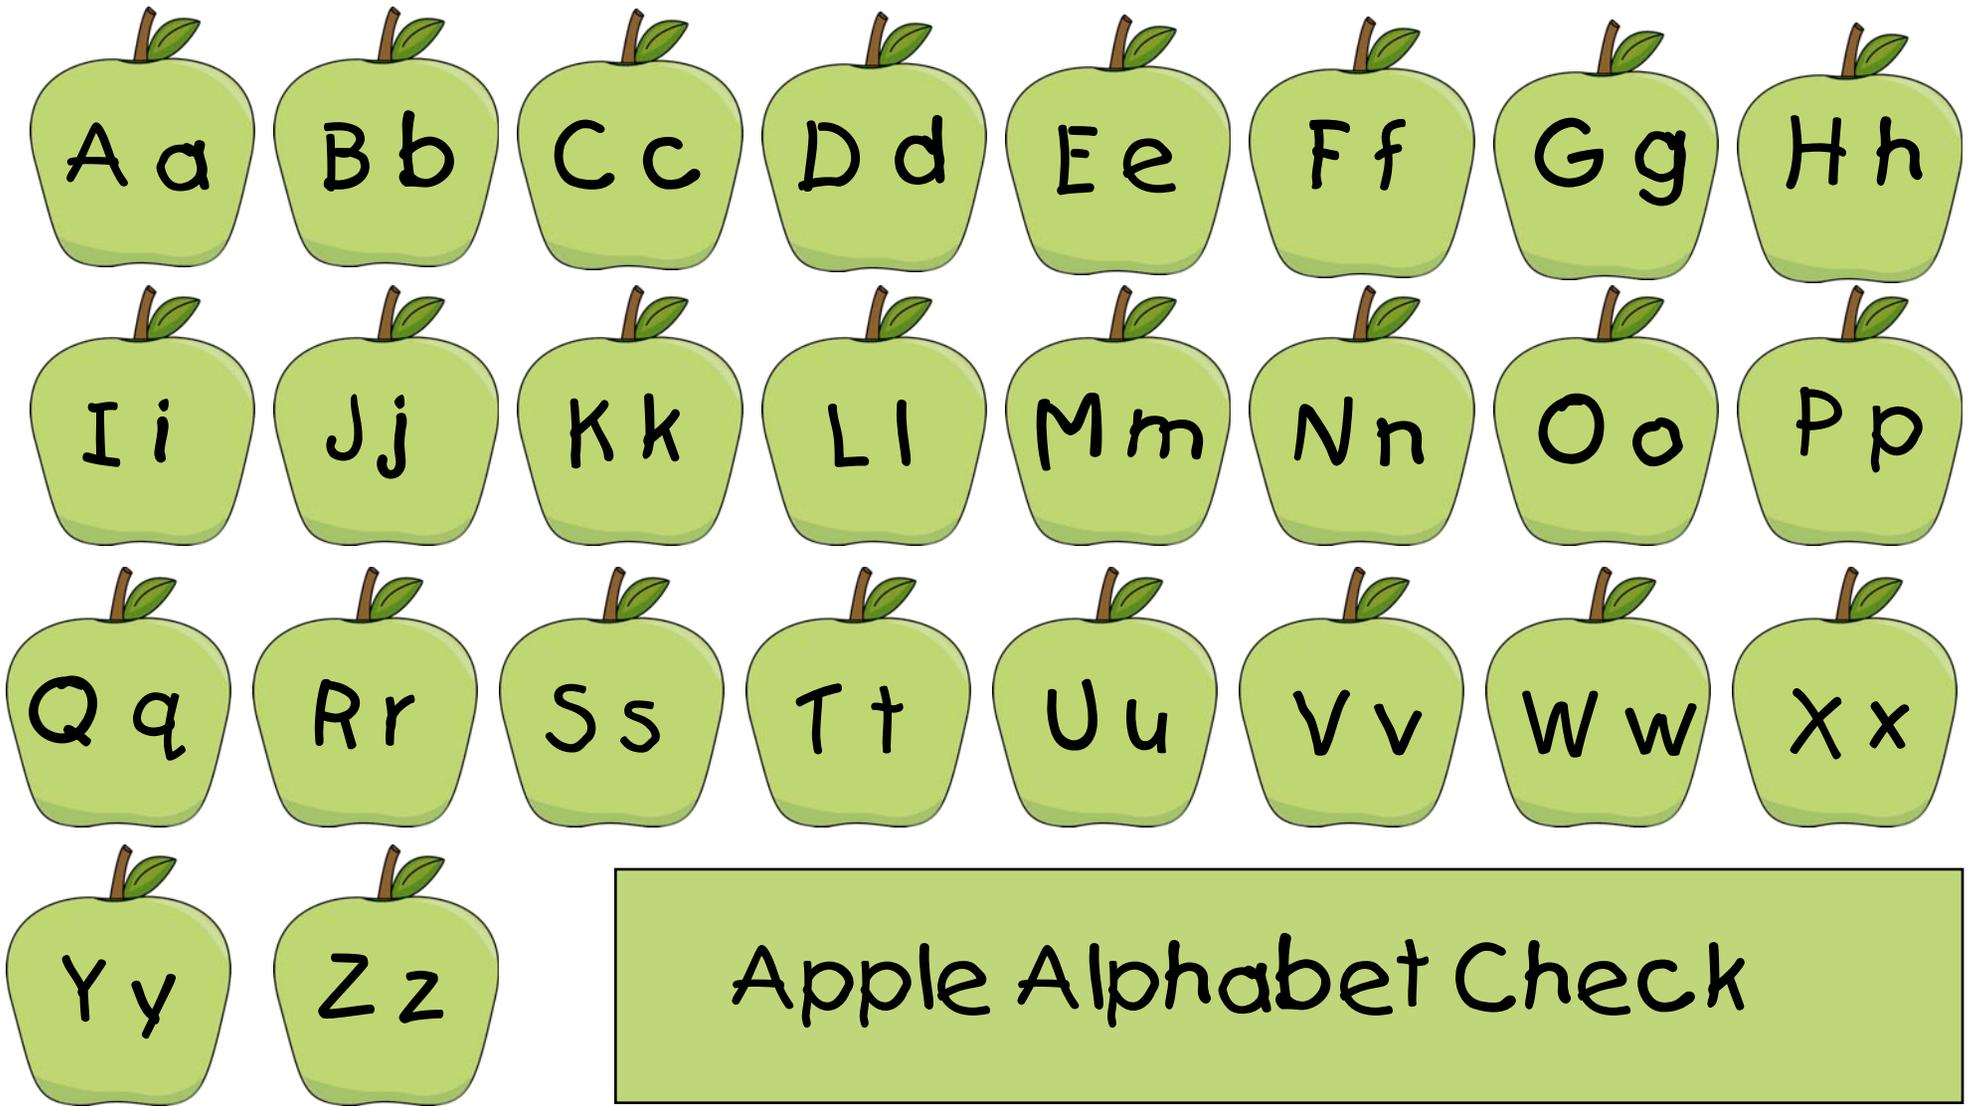

Using the template, trace the leaf once on green construction paper and then cut 5-6 at a time. Do the same for the stem, only on brown construction paper. Glue to the back of your apples then laminate. Children will clip the Aa clothespins on the stem, and the Z or B clothespin on the leaf, depending on where you glue the clothespins.

You can buy clip-on clothespins at The Dollar Store. I suggest you clip all of the clothespins onto the apples BEFORE you write the letters on. Since little ones are just learning about letters, it's less confusing for them, if you print the clothespins so that a letter doesn't appear upside down. i.e. I printed letters E, F, G, H, I, J, sideways with the "pinch" end going to the right, and letters Q, R, S, T, U, V and W sideways, with the "pinch" side going to the left. Letters A, B, C, D, Z, Y, X with the "pinch" side up; and L, M, N, O, P with the "pinch" side down.

Another help for little ones, and allows for quick sorting, is to print the uppercase letters in red permanent marker, and the lowercase letters in black. Bag up this particular set of clothespins and mark them Apple Clothespins. Children can also play with a partner, dividing the clothespins so that each child gets 13 to clip. Teacher chooses the partners, so that a stronger student can help a child who's struggling.

This is a great activity to send home with children who need more one-on-one help. Inform parents via a note that they may BORROW this game for one week and need to return it on a specific day. Tot yourself a note as to who has the game.

So that children can self-check their work, have them look at the apple alphabet chart when they are through.

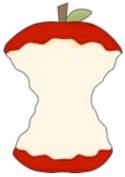

When you have clipped all of your clothespins on the apple,
check to see that you have the correct answers.

Dear _____

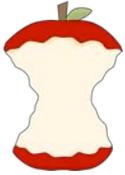

_____ is having some difficulty identifying upper and lowercase letters and pairing them up.

Attached is a game I made, to help make learning this more fun. Have your child pick a clothespin, say the letter and then clip it to the matching upper or lowercase letter.

Please work with your child throughout the week. So that other students may also use the game, please return it by:

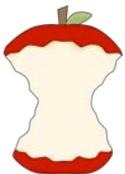

Thanks in advance for your cooperation.
