Hats off to you!

did a terrific job with number sense.

- There are full-page, large templates to make a worksheet, bigger booklet, or teacher's edition.
- I laminated a set and put them in my math center.
- Children use a dry erase marker to complete X number of pages.
- I've also made 2-on-a-page worksheets to conserve paper.
- For our Seuss week celebration, I add the cover and make these into a workbook. My kiddos do one page a day.
- When they complete their booklet, they earn a "Hats off to you!" bookmark. These come 5 on a page, as well as 12 on a page.
